105 TEACHERS HONORED FOR DEDICATION TO CHILD SAFETY

MORRIS TOWNSHIP, N.J., April 24, 2007 – Honeywell (NYSE: HON) and the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children® (NCMEC) announced today the winners of the second annual Got 2B Safe! Awards Program that recognizes teachers committed to keeping children safer from abduction and sexual exploitation. This year, the program will honor 105 teachers from 33 states, including 5 Grand Prize winners that have created effective techniques to teach children the important safety rules in the Got 2B Safe! Program.

“It is critically important that we do everything we can to protect our nation’s children from abduction and exploitation,” said Tom Buckmaster, president, Honeywell Hometown Solutions. “Honeywell has a long standing commitment to family safety and security and we are thrilled to honor these teachers for their efforts to provide life-saving lessons to their students.”

In 2003, Honeywell and NCMEC created the Got 2B Safe! Program to arm teachers, parents, and children with vital child safety skills. This year, the 5 Grand Prize winners will receive a free classroom makeover from a professional designer valued at $10,000, and 100 First Prize winners will receive $500 worth of school supplies. Teachers submitted a lesson plan or essay demonstrating how they taught the Got 2B Safe! Four Rules. The 5 Grand Prize winners, include:

- Laura Amatulli, Rochester Hills, MI – Laura addressed the importance of Internet safety in her curriculum. She provided her students with different scenarios where the Four Rules can be applied. Students then discuss the solutions in groups and film a commercial that can later be viewed by parents and peers.

- Victoria Corpuz, Torrance, CA – Students are led through a safety curriculum divided into four phases during the school year. After parents and students are introduced to the Four Rules, Victoria invites local community leaders for a week long speaker series followed by a student safety contest.
- Lynn Cecero, North Syracuse, NY – Lynn incorporated the Got2BSafe! program into her every day lesson plans by allowing students to present the Four Rules at school-wide morning programs, creating writing assignments, and asking relevant questions for daily journal entries.
- Stacy Goebel, Phoenix, AZ – Through a creatively written story, Stacy emphasizes the importance of knowledge and the power that results from being aware of the Four Rules.
- Debra Amenrud, Blaine, MN – Debra worked with her students to create a fun, easy-to-remember poem about the Four Rules.

“The importance of arming our educators, parents and guardians and ultimately, children with child safety tools cannot be underestimated,” said Ernie Allen, president and CEO of NCMEC. “We believe that teaching children about personal safety should be a top priority for everyone, and we are excited to recognize these exceptional educators and to partner with Honeywell on this important program.”

“I am thrilled to be honored by Honeywell and NCMEC with a 2007 Got 2B Safe! Award,” said Stacey Goebel. “As a teacher, my students’ safety is very important to me. I am proud that my classroom is a place where children are empowered with the tools they need to help them recognize and respond to dangerous situations.”

The Got 2B Safe! Program provides four simple rules for children to follow with the help of their families and teachers. Additional information is available at www.got2bsafe.com.

Got 2B Safe! Four Rules:

1. Check First -- Children should always check with parents and guardians before accepting gifts, rides or invitations from anyone, including friends, acquaintances and people they don't know.

2. Go With a Friend -- Simple and straightforward -- never go anywhere alone. Being with another person in public is safer and more fun.

3. It's My Body -- Teach your children they have the right to say NO to any unwelcome, uncomfortable, or confusing touch or actions by others.

4. Tell a Trusted Adult -- Teach your children to TELL a trusted adult -- parent, guardian, teacher, etc. -- if anyone or anything makes them feel scared, uncomfortable or confused.

Honeywell received the 2005 Department of Justice Corporate Leadership Award for its partnership with NCMEC and the Got 2B Safe! Program. Honeywell Family Safety and Security programs have reached an estimated 5 million children around the world.

The Got 2B Safe! Program is part of Honeywell Hometown Solutions, the company's corporate citizenship initiative, which focuses on four areas: Family Safety and Security; Housing and Shelter; Science and Math Education and Humanitarian Relief. Together with leading public and non-profit institutions, Honeywell has developed powerful programs to address these needs in the communities it serves.
